HBR's 23rd Annual Safety Excellence Award Update

Presented by
CMEF and HBR

Thursday – March 11, 2010
7:00 a.m. - 9:30 a.m.
Brady's Landing - 8505 Cypress St.

Speaker Guest Speaker: Ted C. Kennedy

- Join us to recognize CMEF for their outstanding achievements in the education and training of Greater Houston's construction professionals and learn more about the programs they offer to enrich our industry.
- HBR will be giving an update of the progress of the award, finalist selections, company interviews, award nominees statistics and plans for the future.

Long known for his advocacy of training and education, Ted Kennedy has led by example to prove the importance of a well trained, knowledgeable workforce. As the co-founder of BE&K, Inc., a worldwide engineering, construction and contract maintenance firm, Mr. Kennedy was instrumental in the success of the firm which was named one of the top sixteen medalist companies out of 300 honored in the book, "Companies That Care – The Most Family-Friendly Companies in the United States". BE&K's Child Development Center, BE&K received the NOVA Award in 1991 for innovation in providing benefits to construction workers and recruiting women into the construction workforce. BE&K was also chosen by Fortune magazine as one of the 100 best work places in America. Mr. Kennedy will discuss what he believes firms need to do today to recruit and retain employees, contributing not only to the long-term success of the company but the success of the employee.
